STEEPLE VIEWS

OCTOBER
2026

Reformation

The Lutheran movement began in sixteenth century Germany when a university professor realized that the church was using “words” in a way that was actually hindering the LIVING WORD from reaching the hearts of the people. Some teachers in the church were telling people that they could buy God’s mercy by purchasing indulgences—certificates guaranteeing the forgiveness of sin. The professor understood this practice to be saying, “You don’t need the LIVING WORD which demands a revolution of your life.” The professor, Martin Luther (who was also a priest), did not want to begin a new church. He wanted to stay in the Roman Catholic Church to

- (1) debate those whose teachings he thought were hindering the Living Word and
- (2) to teach and preach the Gospel when he believed would reform the church and would call women and men to obedient trust. We can say that Luther understood his work to be...leading a teaching movement within the Western Church.

From “BAPTIZED WE LIVE Lutheranism as a Way of Life,” by Daniel Erlander

“Cocoon Makers” Need Your Ties

“Cocoon Makers” is a group of ladies in Kent who meet once a week to make bedrolls, quilts, pajamas and other items which are freely distributed to the local community service organizations. They state their mission as “sewing God’s bounty to help those in need.”

The organization started about six years ago and they have accumulated hundreds of donated fabrics. They currently operate in Ravenna.

They made 65 quilts for the Haven of Portage County as it prepared a warming center for Freedom House, a homeless shelter for veterans in Ravenna.

They make bedrolls and use men’s ties to wrap around the bedrolls. Each bedroll takes three ties: two ties to secure the ends of the bedroll and one tie that joins the other ties to make a strap, so the person can carry the bedroll over their shoulder.

HOW CAN WE HELP?

Anjalee Wagers has provided a box to collect men’s ties for this project.

Please place your men’s ties in the box located in the narthex and she will take them to the Cocoon Makers for their bedrolls.

It’s as easy as that!

Check out your closets, ask your family & friends and donate those old ties for a good cause.

As part of this new program, St. Stephen fills 10 identical grocery bags with 20lbs. of food from our pantry. The Foodbank identifies those in need and a driver delivers the groceries to their door.

This program has just begun and is very new. If you are interested in participating in packing bags, please contact Pastor John or Keli Miller.
